
TAILING DRUG ADDICTS MAKES MANY HORSE, SAYS LAWYER

J. J. Cronin Speaks Before the Special Commission at the State House

The practice of sending non-criminal drug addicts to prison to live with criminals, which he said is prevalent in Massachusetts, was sharply attacked today by Atty. John J. Cronin of Boston before the special commission for the study of drug addiction in session at the State House.

Harry J. Ainslinger of Washington, a federal narcotics commissioner, also recommended special treatment for non-criminal addicts, but in telling of the government's efforts to stop the smuggling of drugs from Europe, he said he was the chief problem to be solved.

"I know that many addicts have injured their own lives because of the 'cold turkey' cure used in criminal institutions," said Cronin.

"Many criminals are addicts, but all addicts are not criminals, and this state should make humane treatment."

"Many human devils are sent to the ordinary correctional institutions in Massachusetts because they are addicts, largely through ill-treatment and have been some criminals by association. There have been no end of wild rumors from the courts."

Atty. Cronin said he was told in New York and Baltimore by federal agents.

Adding a large number of addicts who were sent to the penitentiary, he said that he had no protection, saying that he was in the penitentiary and he was in the penitentiary.

Only three states, he said, made adequate drug control laws, these being California, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, and he said Wisconsin made a very good one.

He said that he was in the penitentiary and he was in the penitentiary.

800 IN SEARCH FOR KAUFMAN

Mr. Albert H. Webster of 25 Cambridge, sister of Kaufman, said:

"What has life insurance got to do with the search? We are interested in finding him. There have been no end of wild rumors from the courts."

Members of Kaufman's family and business associates denied today that he had any business or wealth worth a cent.

Prof. R. Allen, treasurer of the Malden, of which Kaufman is president, was authorized by the statement that a trail which looked like that of Kaufman was pulled up by a posse of woodmen and hunters on Tuesday.

Business in good shape. Reports that Kaufman may have deliberately disappeared toward Canada were denied today by Allen.

"Mr. Kaufman had absolutely no cause to disappear," said Allen. "His business is in excellent condition and he was in splendid health when he went to Crocker Pond."

Lindore Fox, Boston attorney, said:

"There is absolutely no foundation for any suggestion of suspicion as to Mr. Kaufman's financial affairs. Both companies in which he is interested—Converse Rubber Company of Malden and the Hedges Rubber Co. of Framingham are in excellent shape. Mr. Kaufman did not speculate."

The fifteen boys who were out setting traps for muskrats and skunks and who were shot at a stump with a rifle which he bought last Saturday.

Mr. Scour was struck while about 20 yards from where Maynard Matthews was killed in May, 1927, by a killer who never was caught. The shooting first was laid to the mysterious "phantom sniper" whose small caliber bullets wounded two men within the past two weeks.

The chief says there will be a third complaint that Whitall trespassed upon the Washington reserve, and preservation to that the plane landed upon the surface of the dam, was driven down it and then took off.

Yale Men Warned to Stop Purling Laboratory 'Alky'

New Haven, Conn. Nov. 13 (AP)—Prof. Arthur J. Hill of the chemistry department of Yale University today warned graduate students and research fellows that they must not use for beverage purposes grain alcohol in the university laboratory for use in experimental and laboratory work.

He said evidence had been submitted in the chemistry department that alcohol had been used for drinking purposes and declared this was "not only unlawful but a distinct breach of faith with the university." It was also stated that the university would sue the offender, if discovered, in court.

Einstein No Edison in Work; Quits When Day Is Done

The human side of Albert Einstein here is told by Louis P. Lochner, chief of the Associated Press bureau in Berlin. This is the first of a series of three daily stories.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Berlin, Nov. 13 (AP)—He plays with the most complex problems of mathematics as a child, until play with marbles, but Albert Einstein is no Thomas A. Edison for work.

He never tries to force more out of a day than it willingly yields. Einstein attributes the key to his complicated findings to some "definite premonition"—"a feeling."

"After all, the work of a researching scientist 'grumbles' upon the soil of imagination, of vision," he said. "When I think back and reflect how no discoveries, originated and took form, a hundred times you run, as it were, with your head against a wall, in order to lay hands upon it, and to define and fit it into a well-defined, premonition—a feeling."

But even him with a small group of intimates, and his defense disappears. He proves an interested listener, a charming, witty conversationalist.

He finds his recreation not in sports, but in rambling over the keys of his grand piano or in playing the violin.

Sound as Einstein is of music, he has little interest in painting. Sculpture, on the other hand, fascinates him, and he fairly worships architecture. To him it is "frozen music."

Chess does not interest him, though mathematicians usually are credited with taking to the game. STATISTICAL VIEW

He is not identified with party politics. Humanitarianism, instead, is one of his chief interests. Participation is one of Einstein's favorite topics in discussion with friends.

The feeling of international solidarity, which is already evidenced in science, art, literature and literature, he believes will in due course of time become strong enough to eliminate war.

He does not regard internationalism as a religion.

DEPT DENIES ORDERING MRS. THAYER OUT

Rich Worcester Sportsman III, but Ready to Take Stand in His Divorce Case

Worcester, Nov. 13—Deputy Sheriff Arthur A. Keefe, under cross-examination in the Thayer cross-out divorce hearing, denied today he had ordered Mrs. Jane H. Thayer from her home the night of the raid on Jan. 31 last.

Keefe admitted he had carried a bottle down the street at the request of Fred B. Thayer, wealthy Grafton sportsman.

At the hearing, Keefe testified through the day over Keefe's testimony, and Mrs. Thayer and Anne Desardis, named by the husband, listened with bated breath. Thayer and Desardis were working on Thayer in an effort to get him for appearing on the stand.

Thayer was taken ill yesterday, but it was expected he would be able to appear in court today regarding the raid.

Thayer, Sheriff Keefe of Oxford gave details of the raid, describing a "boudoir scene" with Mrs. Thayer, Desardis, and a maid. Thayer and Desardis, allegedly, had been in the room.

Also in his direct testimony Keefe told of a drinking party at the Thayer mansion, which Mrs. Thayer, Desardis and others were attending.

At the opening of today's session Keefe was taken in cross-examination by Atty. Clarence Tupper, chief counsel for Thayer. Tupper led step by step over his direct testimony.

Expensively attired and wearing a fur coat, Mrs. Thayer appeared in the courtroom for the first time today, taking a seat near her counsel.

WOMEN ARE THERE

Attorneys, comprising principally of women, was on hand before the courtroom was opened, and so great was the demand for seats it was necessary to station a guard at the door.

Thayer named Desardis in his affidavit, claiming she had a $25,000 action against the young chauffeur for alienation of the affections of his wife.

Mrs. Thayer named Catherine Murphy of Worcester, a trained nurse, and Anita Grosz of Pawtucket, R. I., both charges each other with adultery and misconduct.

Deputy Sheriff J. Harry Flynn was expected to follow Keefe to the witness stand, and give his version of the raid on the night of January 31 in which he participated.

Thayer is scheduled to be the next witness, providing his condition permits him to take the stand.

He is represented by Atty. Frank R. Hall, Jeremiah E. McMahon and Miss Helen Cushman.

Associated with Atty. Tupper for Mrs. Thayer are Atty. Julius B. Dodge and John R. Scott.

About the only thing square about the fight game is the shape of the ring.

About the only thing the fighters do in the big carnival is to amuse the spectators.

Fights are won and lost in the manager's office. When a champion cherches the public $35 to see a championship fight are overacting them for the sake of an automobile that is in dead along for it.

It takes a triple-cross to win a game of tick-tack-toe or anything else.

PRIMATE TALKS BIRTH CONTROL

London, Nov. 13. The Archbishop of Canterbury in an address today before the House of Commons spoke of birth control and the Conference of Bishops view of it. The primate emphasized he was speaking only for himself and not giving an official interpretation. He wanted to give his own view of the motives actuating the bishops, who are opposed to the matter with a strong purpose against any too artificial means to control the birth of the children.

The conference asserted the duty and privilege of parent hood," he said. "It declared it was wrong to enter the marriage state with the intention of avoiding or disregarding that duty. It was compelled to recognize that there are circumstances in which the moral obligation of children, and the question of birth would involve great danger to the health, possibly to the life of the mother."

Knock That Cold In A Jiffy

Relief Now Almost Before You Know It
If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start trying a lot of "four dollar" remedies. Even a "cure" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.
For HILL'S Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: To knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things.
Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, now that all. Soon those mean aching pains in head and body begin to go, the cold breaks up, you feel your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.
If it doesn't do that, your money back. Try a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

DYER PRENOTS 2.75 BEER BILL

Washington, Nov. 13. President Hoover and the Wickersham law enforcement commission now hold the prohibition question in their hands and if they recommend modification in present sale of 2.75 per cent beer Congress will vote it this winter. Rep. L. C. Dyer (R) of Missouri, predicted today.
The Wickersham commission has a 2.75 per cent beer proposal submitted by Dyer a year ago. Although the present Congress claimed overwhelmingly to have passed a 2.75 per cent bill, it would pass this winter, and the question hangs out of the 1932 campaign, if the President and the commission agree.
"If such a bill passes, within ten days we will have 100,000 people at work," he continued.
He believes if Congress changed the enforcement and to permit non-prohibiting beer, people who never drank anything but beer before the 18th Amendment was enacted, would give active support to enforcement of the prohibition as hard liquor."

Sears Roebuck Start Drive for Jobless

More than 2000 employees of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in the Boston district have contributed to the 21-cent fund drive recently inaugurated at the national headquarters. The organization in Chicago is used for the relief of the unemployed.

According to Chairman C. W. Clark, president of the retail stores, and C. M. Hearn, general manager of the mail order division, these figures represent a large percentage of those employed here.

Under the plan set forth, each employee of the company will donate one day's pay out of each four weeks, for the remainder of 1931. The sum donated by the employees will be matched by the company. Mr. Williams further said employees in the Boston district have received the suggestion with enthusiasm and have accepted the company's co-operation.

LORD CECIL AND SOVIET ENVOY IN CLASH

Geneva, Nov. 13 (AP)—The preliminary disarmament conference struggled through a confused session today without any conclusion on how to limit land and war material.

The sitting was adjourned after a sharp exchange between Lord Cecil, British delegate, and Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet delegate.

The American delegation took no part.

A British resolution, the first two sections of which were adopted almost unanimously, read:

The commission (1) approves the principle that there should be the fullest possible interchange of information; (2) records the desire of almost all members to find some method which will provide for limitation of war material; and (3) recognizes that a majority of the commission is of the opinion that as to land war material the most practical method of arriving at a final decision is by budgetary limitation.

But on the third section was postponed, to give Lord Cecil "time to adjust defects to several suggestions."

Litvinoff rejected each section, declaring people expected the commission to fix some definite limitation and did not care whether the members "are good for anything or whether they are inspired by pure motives as high priests."

"I would say to Mr. Litvinoff," Lord Cecil retorted, "that the commission is not enough merely to object to every proposition but to forward a definite proposal. It is essential to offer some definite proposition."

It is understood the small naval powers have committed a draft of a naval limitations agreement prepared by Britain, to the commission, and find it acceptable for a general treaty draft.

They reserve the right, however, to shift language from one category to another, and ask special consideration for submarines and destroyers.

FALL AND WINTER DIETS SHOULD INCLUDE SWEETS

Desserts, Jellies, Canned Fruits, Candies and Cranberry Sauce Are Appropriate

Winter diets demand food food. To disregard this rule leads to loss of vitality, the result of which is sickness.

Food that contains, or is served with refined sugar is good. Cereals, rice or steamed fruit, jellies, jams, preserves, sweetened beverages and desserts belong to this class and every meal affords an opportunity to serve them.

At this time of the year, cranberries in some form are appropriate at any meal. Serve them as a jelly or breakfast as a sauce with meats, in puddings and pies for desserts.

Business people can avoid and overcome fatigue by eating or drinking something sweet in mid-afternoon. There is a wide variety of such snacks available every where—candy, cakes, beverages and cream. A glass of water sweetened with sugar—the "athletic's cocktail"—will always render invigorating. In eating and drinking these food and beverages, the sugar is quickly digested and its energy is immediately available. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with refined sugar. FRANCE CENTER IN SMUGGLING OF DRUGS

Marseilles, as a link between the Orient and the Occident, does a business in illicit narcotics larger than that of any other world port. The following article is the first of a series of three surveying the illicit traffic, smuggling and dope market in the French seaport.

By GEORGE W. HUNMAN, JR. Universal Service Correspondent

Marseilles, Nov. 13.—Drugs in large and small quantities are being smuggled in and out of Marseilles today on nearly every steamer engaged in trade with ports of the Near and Far East.

A comparatively small and helpless force of government agents is fighting vainly in the unusual battle against the gigantic international ring dealing in illicit drugs.

During the last few months, tons of opium, heroin and cocaine have been seized on ships from the Black Sea, Eastern Mediterranean and Far East ports. A single Italian steamer brought on its last voyage nearly a ton of narcotics which were seized. Greek, French and British vessels are also freely used by smugglers.

IMPROVE METHODS

Meeting every effort of the authorities, the drug runners are improving their methods as fast as their old tricks are discovered. Recently police encountered a large consignment of olive oil from barrels from the East. As the principal port of the Western Mediterranean, Marseilles had received many such shipments previously.

Investigation disclosed that each barrel contained an ingenious receptacle for transporting drugs—a liquid-proof container resting securely in the center of each barrel, supported by four rods which appeared to be part of the barrel.

The ordinary examination, for false bottoms and such, could never have uncovered the trick. Another smuggler's trick is to use real and expensive Havana cigars. An inspector found a broken cigar which contained a tube filled with drugs.

COUNTERFEIT CONTAINERS

Like American bootleggers, drug smugglers make generous use of counterfeit containers and labels. Shipments of cocaine, four and other foodstuffs, properly contained and labeled by apparently honest manufacturers, often hold narcotics.

Ship captains can do little except report their suspicions to customs investigators.

"Duck rats" are active in the smuggling trade. Although each can carry only a small quantity, the total amount of drugs they smuggle reaches an appalling figure. They, like American gangsters, have their "rackets" and their power and influence.

Narcotics running, like American bootlegging, makes for large profits, and there are always large sums of money for distribution where they will do the most good in obtaining "protection."

Better and Cheaper Turkeys Forecast for Holidays

Turkeys are going to be cheaper and better than ever and are going to be placed on the Boston market in quantity at a price not in excess of 40 cents a pound.

So numerous are turkeys this year that several carloads already have arrived in Boston, two weeks in advance of the usual time.

The dry season is good for turkeys. They will better in quality than they have been for the last 10 years, marketmen said.

Witness Silent on the Stand Because He Was Dead

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP).—John W. Glover, 35, was on the witness stand in court yesterday morning on the discredited wife's claim to $10,000 worth of property.

Mrs. Glover's attorney filed a motion for judgment of acquittal. He made no reply.

A court attendant walked on to the witness stand and laid out a casket for him, but still there was no reply. Glover was dead.

Mass. Mother's Lucky Find

WHEN we find that some slight adjustment makes a marvelous improvement in a child we wonder why we hadn't thought before to give the child this help.

A good example is the experience of Mrs. E. H. King, 21 Brackenbury St., Boston. She says: "My little girl was doing fairly well but I noticed she didn't eat like she should and didn't seem to have much energy."

"I wanted to do something for her, and a friend recommended California Fig Syrup. So I gave her some. Later improved so much I wonder why I didn't do something for her stomach and bowels before. It restored her sleep, gave her a good appetite and plenty of energy."

To point up a child's appetite, increase energy and strength, assist digestion and assimilation, there's nothing more effective than pure vegetable California Fig Syrup. Doctors advise its use to open the bowels during colds and children's diseases, or whenever bad health, coated tongue, headaches, indigestion, etc., warn of constipation.

The syrup always bears the name California. So look for that when buying. At all drugstores.

Says

PETER GRIMM

President of Wm. A. White & Sons. Four times President of the Real Estate Board of New York.

"The development of real estate values in America is always furthered by modern improvements. Only in that way has real estate become one of the premiere factors in America's economic growth."

"It is interesting to me to note that the same principle which dominates the development of real estate holds good in other fields, the principle which you have demonstrated by your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the toasting process."

Peter Grimm

Everyone knows that sunshine mellow— that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating!

Jack Donahue's First Job

WHEN JOHN MACK, Boston theater manager, told Jack Donahue he had a job for him if he could get a partner, Donahue first picked Benny Martin. Rehearsal started, however, Benny's mother said, "No stage for Benny." In quick time Dan McGee was taken on, but they went billed as Donahue and Martin. Their first stop was Halifax. At the very moment of train arrival in the Canadian City the Halifax Theater was burning. We show you Jack and his partner, Dan, in first days of their act.

PARTNER'S MA RUINS ACT

Continued from Page 1, Sec. Sec. There Jack made one of the very few mistakes of his career. Having had plenty of experience of himself and money, there in his first job, he was opposed to the idea of a partner, but he had to go along with it.

On the Nose Jack Took It—Plenty

The first mistake was a rugged girl from Boston named Mine who had a face like a ham and a nose of iron. His first blow was a stiff one to Jack's nose. It was a hard one, and the girl's nose was broken. There was plenty of blood and the girl's nose was broken. "After that," said Jack later, "I went right into my dance and kept it up."

SHIELDS ASKS BIG FIRMS TO 'HIRE A MAN'

Head of Employment Bureau Says This Would Relieve Much Distress

"If you have an odd job to do, or a task on which you are working, or a job which you can do, please hire a man. This is the only way to relieve the distress of the unemployed. I have visited the managers of several large concerns and have received their promises to do what they can, and I have hopes that some real help will be forthcoming from this source. The offers of work trickle in, but a hundred times more often it is only encouragement that the employees of the bureau have to make out to the applicants. In the crash of 750 men and women at the corner of the building on Church st., yesterday, one man, South Boston, collapsed from malnutrition and was removed to City Hospital."

BEFORE LEAVING from the L platform Miss Bailey walked to the signal section and placed her pocketbook on the rail. In the pocketbook police found the note reproduced above telling them to notify certain relatives but not to tell her aunt whom she lived in Wollaston.

Sonnenberg Meets Sherry

GUS THE GOAT PICKED TO WIN

Complete Card at Arena Tonight

Gus Sonnenberg, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, vs. Jack Sherry, Ohio State champion, best two falls out of three to finish.

Rosario Impellitteri, New York State champion, vs. Dan Koff, Nevada.

Stanley Stasak vs. Ivan Rogoff.

Joe Weisell vs. Harry Mammos.

By JACK CONWAY

Gus Sonnenberg rules a favorite for his world heavyweight championship bout with Jack Sherry, Ohio State champion, which will be staged at the New Boston Arena tonight, under the direction of Paul Bower.

The speculative element is of the opinion that Sonnenberg's famous flying tackle will enable him to retain his title.

It will be Sonnenberg's first Boston appearance, this season, since he started his fall campaign on the Pacific coast, where he won from Ed Groves. He then won from Ed Groves in the Middle West.

Sonnenberg has become a much improved wrestler during the past year. When Gus was the title holder from Eugene Lewis at the Boston Garden a year ago last January, he relied chiefly upon his aggressive, head, cuttings and flying tackle to win the victory.

A champion, Sonnenberg toured the country moving all corners, and met the local and foreign as well as the seasoned amateurs. He has taken part in more than 100 matches since he became boss of the heavyweight division.

It is natural that Sonnenberg, a born athlete, should be so well respected. I believe he could now defend his title as well as he won and still defeat most of the top men in the division.

Flying Tackle Tonic for Box Office

Box promoters, however, would prefer to see Sonnenberg passing up by flying tackle. In addition to being a winning hold, it catches the eye of customers with the greatest skill they have ever seen in the wrestling game. It is the same position as the one that the Dempsey Kaye did to bring and the Ruth broke in to baseball.

There are days when the public demands the unusual from its athletes. And Sonnenberg has not been picked in this respect.

Sherry was from St. Paul, Minn. In his last Boston appearance and has the class to make Sonnenberg's flying tackle a big event, and is also quite fast. He says he intends to keep coming to the arena tonight as he believes this is the best way to win the championship. In the past, Sherry has done well with his tackle, and Sonnenberg has done best with his tackle when he has had his opponent backing away.

I am picking Sonnenberg to win tonight. I have always stuck with a champion. Unless they possessed real ability, no champion would have reached this far.

Impellitteri to Tack

On Ivan Rogoff

Rosario Impellitteri, Italian migrant, will have Ivan Rogoff of Russia as an opponent in the final, Impellitteri is 20 years old, 5 ft. 10 in., weighs 165 lbs. He has won 15 bouts in a row, his latest victory he will add Rogoff to his list of victims.

Stanley Stasak, Polish giant, will wrestle with Dan Koff, while Joe Weisell, St. Louis, Texan, will tackle Harry Mammos of Springfield.

Present Backfield Mightier Than Horsemen—Rockne

Chicago, Nov. 12 (AP)—During the season's recent visit to the "A" region of the East, where he proved that while the men may be mightier than the horsemen, the P-E-N-N is not mightier than the football trickery, he told an Eastern authority that his present backfield is mightier than the Four Horsemen.

The Rock is quoted as saying: "The present backfield is 20 pounds heavier on an average than the Horsemen. It has more of all things the Horsemen would do and perhaps some of the things the Horsemen could not do."

Even Money Wagering on Fuller-Callahan Wrangle

By MR. BOSTON

I don't know what there was about that little story I wrote about Andy Callahan and Sammy Fuller for yesterday's paper, but anyhow George Underwood has asked me to remain right on the job until the Christmas Basket Fund show at the Arena is over on next Monday night.

That's like asking a kid to stay by a jar of jam until he has eaten it.

The Callahan Fuller bout is the greatest light-weight bout offered Boston fans since Marty Daidan Eddie Murphy, Gilbert Calcutt and Joe Egan were punching each other's noses off.

I met Young Duncanson of time light-weight champion, a Robby Cushing the other night.

He was looking for me at the Callahan Fuller bout, and said "I could stop some in you, but I'm going to stay in the ring with those two youngsters. This one is hot, and when it comes to watching they have it on some of us outlanders."

"Both were saving New England, didn't they? First class lightweights when Sammy and Andy landed the knockout."

New watch this duo!"

Dave Deshler, impressed with Callahan's Punch

I later bumped into Dave Deshler at Jim Toland's Gym, "Kammy Dave." He was one of the great lightweights in the world 20 years ago.

"I look for a red hot scrap when Callahan and Fuller meet," Deshler said. "I have been watching Callahan in his training sessions here and he looks like the real deal. He is aggressive, fighting fellow who knows how to take a punch. He is a real fighter, not a kid who can sock like he does not have to possess a great deal of science."

"Fuller is a better boxer than Callahan, but doesn't hit quite as hard. It looks like anybody's fight."

I asked Bobby Goldman, a "red hot" bettor on the bout.

"Most likely is going down at the money," he said.

"Callahan opened a 10 to 9, but the odds have tightened up."

Eddie Mark.

A matchmaker, tells me the right-hand semi-final between Vincent Vincent of Cambridge and Vincent Wynnwick of Lawrence will also have a very interesting outcome.

"I recently visited Alton Holden," declared the top matchmaker. "And he tells me he will be as much for Wynnwick."

Zuppke and Page in Shift Rumors

"Chicago Daily News," says that Coach Zuppke of Indiana and Coach Page of California have been involved in a football feud. One report had it that Coach Zuppke was being considered for coach of the University of California. Another had it that Coach Page was being considered for coach of the University of California. The story is that the two coaches are in a feud over the loss of California's Southern branch.

PASSING THE PUCK

by BILL GRIMM

Manager Eddie Powers is driving his Tigers for the Philadelphia Arrows battle in the Garden on Saturday night. Although the Bengals came through in the opening game against the Arrows, the sextet is far from best form as they have only been practicing for 10 days.

One of our friend Deacon Wate who is now on the second line of the Bengals gave a fine account of Philadelphia. He was in a good mood, and a fair chance to show his ability he will make the N. Y. L. go.

Bill Shaver and George Mallory will make their N. Y. L. appearance in Toronto on Saturday night. They did a good job here, knowing more about the new rules than the Americans. From Eddie Gerard down to the mascot.

There is something "rotten in Denmark" when it comes to the ability of Jerry and Deane in the Bengals. The Bengals have been in a slump since they were picked up by an array of players. The Bengals have been in a slump since they were picked up by an array of players.

The Can-Am League is following the new example set by the N. Y. L. last season by opening the season without a meeting of a referee for the purpose of making approved rulings.

Railroad Plans in East, Copper Stabilization Meet Obstacles

By R. H. FORBES

New York, Nov. 12.—Two important developments are now under way in the financial market. Both of these developments are now under way, and it is expected that they will be completed within a few months.

The first of these developments is the proposed consolidation of the New England railroad system. This is a plan which has been under consideration for some time, and it is now being actively pushed. The plan is to consolidate the New England railroad system into a single entity, and it is expected that this will be completed within a few months.

BUSINESS STILL WATCH MARKET

By FRANK M. MELLOAN

After the stock market crash in 1929, the economists remarked that it was now but been pointing too much attention to the market. They felt it would be possible for business to get back to normal, and that the market would be able to handle the situation.

But the market has not been able to handle the situation. The stock market has continued to decline, and the economy has been in a state of depression. The economists are now watching the market closely, and they are trying to find a way to get the market back to normal.

The market is still in a state of depression, and the economists are still watching it closely. They are trying to find a way to get the market back to normal, and they are trying to find a way to get the economy back to normal.
